The Carneros Inn

Like a great vineyard, The Carneros Inn was planted to express a sense of place in a unique and wonderful way.

Established in the Carneros winegrowing district at the foot of the Napa Valley, this luxury resort uncorks a world of wine and pleasure that never forgets its roots. That those roots occupy one of California's most acclaimed areas for Pinot Noir is just one more plus for the Inn!

Eighty-six mini farmhouses are arranged in neighborly clusters on the 27-acre property with pretty gardens of salvia, tree mallow and other native flora. Each cottage has a porch and a mailbox, a tin roof and all the luxury anyone could want inside. The rustic chic includes heated slate floors in the bathroom, a deep soaking tub, indoor and outdoor showers, crisp Italian linens, plasma television, and plenty of windows to let in the light of Carneros.

Sunbathe in your own private courtyard or just relax and breathe in the fresh sea air coming straight off the San Pablo Bay in this coolest of all the Napa Valley's wine appellations. Out your window, the view is big and open with vineyards in the distance, backed by the Mayacamas Mountains.

You can dine on the property at the guests-only Hilltop Dining Room, or take breakfast at the casual Boon Fly Cafe (named for a 19th century Carneros grapegrower). And when you've finished touring Carneros wineries like Domaine Carneros and Cuvaison, or Napa favorites (like Plumpjack; the Inn is owned by The Plumpjack Group), enjoy a dip in the infinity-edged pool above the vineyards. Or head for the Inn's spa where this resort offers treatments true to its terroir like The Harvests, The Farms, The Minerals, The Cellars and The Flowers. By year's end, a $35 million construction project will add a small town square with Carneros' first post office, a general store and eatery, 5,000 sq. ft. conference center, fitness center and yoga studio ... all making for a beautiful blend at The Carneros Inn!
