Napa, CA

The hilly Carneros region, which circles the northern reaches of San Francisco Bay, is legendary for cultivating fine wines. Now it has food that lives up to the area's world-class reputation. The Carneros Inn recently opened Farm in collaboration with the PlumpJack group. The restaurant, designed by William Rawn Associates, resembles a sleek barn with cathedral ceilings and has an overscale indoor-outdoor fireplace. The seasonal, locally sourced menu, overseen by executive chef Kimball Jones, has included Sonoma lamb and ricotta ravioli with lamb jus and rabbit ragù with acorn squash, currants and spinach pappardelle. Main courses begin at $20 (4048 Sonoma Hwy.; 707/299-4882, carnerosinn.com).
