

THE RADAR WEEK ENDER

BY GILLIAN FLYNN

THE INN CROWD

Reality TV has become, well, reality, even in the Wine Country. On a recent trip to the Inn at Carneros (rates from $480, www.thecarnerosinn.com), MTV had cameras on rapper Nas and his milkshake-brings-all-the-boys-to-the-yard wife, Kelis at the lap pool overlooking Pinot vineyards. What they ordered poolside, a dozen In-N-Out burgers, clearly should have been skipped for the fare at Farm, the hotel's newest be-seen restaurant, where glass fire pits are flanked by valley insiders. Keeping up with the Napa Joneses, the inn added a second pool with cabanas—thankfully first-come, first-served—along with fractional properties.